Technology

The air conditioning unit has been installed in the Server Room and the new server has subsequently been installed. Gradually computers are being added to the Vista operating system. Windows-7 has been loaded on two staff terminals as a trial. Yes

A formal request has been placed with the network: CWMARS to upgrade the capacity of the switches at JEL. Currently, we have 2 and the response rate has been noticeably slow. Earlier this year, I sent a submission as part of a grant proposal for tier-2 libraries and the grant was awarded.

CWMARS are one of three consortia that are moving towards an open source Integrated Library System. Evergreen has been selected as the Open Source vendor for the ILS that is in development. Money is being used from a LSTA grant and will also require $$ from the networks. As of now, NOBLE, Merrimac Valley and CWMARS have grouped together to go forward with this project. There is a possibility that other networks may join later (in other states Open Source has been used state-wide) and this project can grow accordingly. At the moment a coordinator is being recruited

Thompson Bequest

Money still at Treasurer's Office for depositing when copy of the will is available.

Staffing

Adult Services – The Town Manager, Trustee Dick Whitney and I interviewed seven strong candidates from a pool of 24 applicants. Three candidates are invited back on Monday, November 23rd to meet with the senior staff. The staff will be asked to rate the 3 candidates and to forward their rankings to Town Manager's office. A decision will be made soon thereafter.

Children's Library Aide – The position will be re-advertised.

Page in Adult Dept. – A small pool of applicants are currently being reviewed and interviews will be set up next week.

Workforce Investment Act

Shalynn Claudio worked as part of the WIA program (no cost to JEL). She has since obtained another position and Chelsi Coleman has been placed with us in a similar capacity, working between Children's and Adult Departments.

Ethics Compliance

The staff and the Friends have completed the online training. There are just a couple of more certificates that need to be submitted to the Town Clerk's Office.

Young Adults

Working with the School Resource Officer Rossi to talk with the after-school students who visit the library.

Meetings

It has been busy attending various meetings – the highlight being the Don't Close The Books on Libraries rally, at the State House. I have been elected onto the Central MA Regional Library Service (CMRLS) board.

Grants

Cultural Council

The library submitted many program proposals

CMRLS Collaborative Grant

$500 was awarded to JEL in response to our

Request for Supplement Money for Materials

There is $6,700 remaining in the account, I would like to start the process of requesting money for Materials now so as to ensure a smooth transition from one fiscal source to another.
